No Excuses [PLEASE]

Please don't find me morbid when my response to not caring about being sexually is "no one wants tainted dick & ass"
And don't laugh when I tell you I loose my erection when a condom is presented for my protection
Don't look @ me like I'm deaths messenger when I give out of breath from climbing 5 steps
Living has become a constant battle

Forgive me for sometimes not telling a trick I got the package, it doesn't go well with "toss my salad please"
Understand that when I throw countless / endless medical bills in the trash, I'm refusing to pay the government for fucking me
Indulge my selective memory, some things are just better forgotten.
